Pink Class

Hello Pink Class,

April showers bring May flowers. The Pink class had a lot of fun celebrating Easter with a party filled with crafts, songs and an egg hunt. The kiddos have been busy little bees learning the letters "V", "W" & "X", counting from 1-5, their colors, shapes and sharpening their fine motor skills. Some of the kiddos have been learning their friends names while others are mastering the art of walking. They all have been learning to share and play with each other. Pink class enjoys art time very much! They have made colorful kites and spring flower pictures to decorate the classroom.

In May we will spend as much time as possible outside while the weather is nice. We have some Mother's Day projects in store as well as continuing to work on our sign language with "more" and "please". We will have a "Farmers market" lesson where we learn the names of fruits/vegetables and sort them by color. We will also practice saying different body parts such as "head, shoulders, kness, toes, fingers, eyes etc., as well as learn new songs. We will continue the fine motor skill lessons and reading books. The Pink class kiddos are little sponges soaking up everything around them; we try to make every moment a teachable one, even outside playtime provides such moments.

Ms. Krizia has stepped into Pink Class as the co-teacher until Ms. Sammy gets back from maternity leave. Upon her return, Ms. Sage will be the permanent co-teacher in our class. Both ladies are fantastic teachers and the kiddos love them!

Reminders:

- Please be sure that your child has extra clothes that are weather appropriate in their white bag on their hook.
- Label everything with your child's name.
- Please have their sunscreen & bug spray applied before drop off in the mornings, we will re-apply in the afternoon. If your child has a specific brand they use you can send it with their name labeled on it.
- Please make sure that everyone listed on your child's pick-up list, including parents, have their ID on file with the Pink Room. It is always a good idea to bring your IDs with you at pick-up.
- We are Closed Monday May 25th for Memorial Day. Week not prorated.
